- Curate content and themes in Wordpress and Wix
- Develop and maintain proprietary data management system, including custom functions for various clients

A knowledgeable coder, efficient problem-solver, and effective communicator. Seeking a role that demands coding and web development skills. Ability to learn and thorough work ethic are two of my biggest strengths. My education and past experiences have taught me much about the field. Effective communication, independent learning, and humility—these are core precepts to effectively complete projects. Fun fact: my interest in coding took off after I helped win a Game Jam while at university.
